

Course Syllabus: A Very Queer History: LGBTQ History & Classroom Inclusion

Number of Credits: 1*

Course Instructors: Cindy Swanson & Nate Monson

Course Description:

History has traditionally been taught in a linear, chronological fashion from the context of those who held the highest influence throughout society. Too often the perspectives of the working class, minorities, immigrants, and women have been ignored in exchange for a limited, anglocentric narrative. Fortunately this trend is changing with the publication of texts such as A People's History of the United States and Lies My Teacher Told Me. In order to correctly connect the past to the present while remaining relevant and engaging, it is imperative to include the wide-ranging perspectives of the American experience. These efforts have been applied to women and racial minorities, but there has been little work towards including the stories of Americans from the LGBTQ community.

This course serves as a basic foundation for those who want to expand their social studies curriculum to be inclusive to LGBTQ experiences. Topics include the effects of assigning identities to historical figures, contributions from LGBT individuals and groups throughout American history, using thematic teaching to link concepts to perspectives, the challenges associated with including these themes in the classroom, and how to solve them.

Activities in this course include the analysis of key LGBTQ people and movements in United States history, the application of the thematic approach to teaching history, and the development of resources for implementing queer perspectives into the curriculum.

Learning Objectives:

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Demonstrate basic knowledge of the LGBT experience throughout United States history

- Judge the effectiveness of teaching history in a thematic versus linear method
- Evaluate resources such as primary documents and media to increase understanding of LGBT identity in United States history
- Create a lesson plan to be implemented in the history classroom that includes perspectives from LGBT Americans.

 Course Requirements:

To receive full credit for the course, participants must complete ALL assignments and respond to specific questions outlined in each assignment. Failure to complete all assignments will result in a disqualification in the course and a failing grade.

Other Course Information:

Getting Started

- After registering for the course, you will be sent an email with the website address, password and course key you need to access your online course, along with log in instructions.
- Access each assignment through the course home page. All assignments will be submitted through the Moodle platform on each respective assignment page.
- Please save a backup copy of all course assignments and completed work.

Participation

- You are not required to be present (i.e. online) specific days or times. You will work at your own pace. The course is structured in 3 Weekly Units, however all assignments will not be due until the final day of the course.
- All responses will be posted online. Large documents, files, photographs or PowerPoint presentations may be attached as part of your response by using the “Submit A File” option.
- You may work collaboratively and submit similar responses on all assignments except final projects, which must be individually authored.

INTASC Standards that are addressed in this course:

Student Requirements

Students are required to:

- Participate in all discussion forums
- Complete a final implementation plan

Americans with Disabilities Act:

If you are a student with a disability and require any auxiliary aids, services, or other accommodations for this class, please see the instructor to discuss your accommodation needs.

Grading Rubrics for Individual Activities

Discussion Forums (60 points possible)

Discussion Forums are asynchronous ways to engage in class discussions. They require you to submit an answer to a question and respond to the posts of other peers. Because they are an integral part of sharing strategies, analyzing research, and sharing ideas, discussion forums in this course comprise a significant percentage of your final grade. It's highly recommended that you read and respond to more than the required two peer postings because greater participation will facilitate a greater depth of understanding. Additionally, it's important to make posts in a timely manner to benefit from peer responses.

Grading Rubric for Discussion Forums
		Points
Critical Thinking	Makes connections to the other content and real-life that are supported by reference(s) and example(s)	2
	Offers new ideas, connections, or applications	2
	Expresses and justifies personal opinion	2
	Discusses Overall Implications	2
Assignment Specific Criteria	Addresses all parts of the assignment, cites sources	1
Participation (Responses to at least 2 peer posts)	Responds to other posts (when available)	1
Total Points Possible		10

End of Week Quizzes: Checking for Understanding (30 points possible)

The quizzes are multiple choice, definitions, true/false, or fill in the blank. The grading is done automatically and you only have one chance to complete the quiz.

Implementation Plan (25 points possible)

The implementation plan is a critical part of this course. Participants must complete a one-page implementation plan. The paper is meant to be a reflection as well as a chance to state what you will use going forward. The rubric below will be used to grade the Implementation Plan, but additional details will be provided within the course.

Grading Rubric for Implementation Plan
		Points
Critical Thinking	Highlights any new knowledge gained as a result of course.	5
	Offers new ideas, connections, or applications	5
	Expresses and justifies personal opinion	3
	Discusses Overall Implications	2
Assignment Specific Criteria	Addresses all parts of the assignment, cites sources	2
Mechanics	Writing is clear, well developed, and organized, No or few grammar and spelling errors	2
Implementation	Clearly states ideas to use in the future	2
	States resources to be used	2
	Is realistic in their approach – understands limitations may exist	2
Total Points Possible		25
